And all that jazz!

Eumundi recently celebrated 100 years of the Country Women's Association (QCWA) with a birthday party that started with cocktails and songs from the Doo Wop Dolls in the CWA Hall, moved across the street to the dining room at Joe's Waterhole and ended with dancing late to the jazz and blues music of Girl Friday.

Guests arrived in 1920s costumes to bring back the glory days of the CWA Hall when it hosted parties and small events in a growing regional community. A toast was made to the enduring spirit of country women and all those who have been part of our Eumundi Branch over the past 95 years.

The All That Jazz theme meant ladies were bejewelled with glittering headbands, feather boas and long strings of pearls. Others chose more historic costumes such as Henry VIII, or the severe black bow tie look. Our CWA ladies look forward to the entire town celebrating 100 years of the Eumundi Branch in 2027. More photos page 19...
